The donation, which includes books from the primer through sixth grade, was made by Mrs. Henry C. Johnson (right), 1940 Vista Ave. Mrs. Harry Hinshaw, librarian, is at left. (See editorial.)

PTA Probes Comic Book Sales Here

A survey of the type of comic books and other literature sold in Sierra Madre stores will be made by the PTA, it was announced yesterday.

The decision to investigate the comic book situation was made at the recent PTA Board meeting, following a complaint from some parents.

Mrs. E. R. Mitchell and Mrs. Wanda Goldie have been appointed to make the survey and report at the next Board meeting in April.

NEW OFFICERS of the PTA for the 1958-59 year will be elected at the group's regular meeting next Monday, March 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Highland Ave. school auditorium. Officers will be chosen from a nominee slate, previously published in the Sierra Madre News.

During the program a short speech explaining the need of additional school bonds will be made by a member of the Pasadena School Bond Committee.

Also, the Sierra Madre School Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs and the Band will present the annual Spring Music Festival, under the direction of Leonard Burwell, music teacher. Mrs. Catherine Kirk will be the accompanist.

Lorne B. Pratt Gets New Post With Penn Phillips

Lorne B. Pratt, former Sierra Madrean and councilman, has been appointed vice president of public affairs for M. Penn Phillips Enterprises.

Pratt's former position with the company as managing director of Hesperia Inn, was taken over by Fritz Roehm.

Phillip J. Farrar, a vice president of M. Penn Phillips Enterprises, has been made responsible for the administration of the many recreational facilities built by the company.

Local Man Arrested in Morals Case

A Sierra Madrean is being held by police here on charges of molesting a 9-year-old girl.

He is Walter Stephens Ernst, 55, of 411 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., a resident of this city for about the past six months. The complaint against Ernst was signed by Police Sgt. Robert Heasley, and bail was set at $5,000.

Police said Ernst enticed the girl into his apartment last Sunday afternoon and then molested her. The youngster was not injured.

This is the second case involving the molesting of young girls to occur in Sierra Madre in the past month.

About three weeks ago police arrested a man, not of Sierra Madre, on the same grounds, but dropped charges when it was determined that the victim of the attack was too young to make a reliable witness.

Prize Film To Be Shown In Library

A small boy, a white stallion and a small dragon that gets big are the subjects of three short motion pictures to be shown as the next offering in the popular Sierra Madre Library monthly series.

"Palle Alone in the World," "White Mane" and "Georgie and the Dragon" will be shown in the library community room Saturday morning at 9:15 and 10:45, especially for children; and again on Monday night at 7 and 8:15.

The pictures are provided by the Los Angeles County Museum without admission charge, and are sponsored by the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library.

"Palle Alone in the World" is described as "the delightful story of a little boy who suddenly discovers that he is the only person in Copenhagen and makes all the impossible dreams of a small boy come true."

"White Mane" is a film of beauty and rare photographic mastery which shows a young boy's friendship with a proud white stallion.

"Georgie and the Dragon," Cannes Film Festival grand prize winner, is a color cartoon about a boy who brings home a small pet which grows into a considerable dragon.

Journalist Dies At Session of State Legislature

Ross Marshall, West Coast representative of Hearst Publishing Co., died last week in Sacramento while attending a special session of the State Legislature.

A former resident of Sierra Madre, Mr. Marshall was 62, and had resided in Pasadena for the past several years. He formerly was a political writer for the Los Angeles Herald-Express. He is survived by his wife, Martha; daughter, Patricia; son, Robert, and several grandchildren.

F. G. Scalzo Succumbs At 80

Frederick G. Scalzo, founder of a bakery, builder, and long-time Sierra Madrean, died Tuesday morning in Santa Teresa Hospital, Duarte, following a lingering illness. He was 80 years old.

A native of Italy, Mr. Scalzo came to the United States 70 years ago and had lived in Sierra Madre for the past 38 years.

IN 1923 he and the Scribner Brothers founded the 4-S Bakery in Los Angeles, which was later sold to and still exists under the name of Interstate Bakeries. Mr. Scalzo retired from the baking business in 1948.

When Mr. Scalzo first moved to Sierra Madre he operated a small grocery store approximately where the Union Oil Station now stands.

He built the apartments at 145 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., the location of his home when he died, and also built the shopping area which houses the California Water and Telephone Co., among other businesses.

HE IS SURVIVED by his wife, Letitia; three sons, Thomas and Carlton, both of Sierra Madre, and Joseph, Glendora; one brother, Joseph, Arcadia; a sister, Mrs. Marie Solury, San Clemente; six grandchildren, and one great grandchild.

Recreation of the Rosary was held Wednesday in St. Rita's Church, and the Requiem Mass will be at 9 a.m. today. Interment will be in Resurrection Cemetery, with the Ripple Mortuary Chapel in charge of arrangements.

Father's Point Of View Is Nursery Topic

Three Sierra Madre Community Nursery School fathers, all professionals in the field of human relations, will lead the fourth meeting of the Nursery School Assn. with a discussion of father's point of view.

This will be on March 18 at 8 p.m. at the Nursery School, 701 E. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Participating in the panel discussion will be Carl Shaffer, psychiatric social worker; Dr. Robert Hinshaw, psychiatrist, and Dr. Robert Schaper, minister, with Robert Anderson, attorney at law, moderating.

All fathers in the community are invited to attend and join in the discussion. Mothers and other interested persons are also asked to join the group.

The meeting is sponsored jointly by the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School and the Pasadena City College Extended Day.

'We Don't Want Any Pay,' Says City Council

Serving Sierra Madre is reward enough, city councilmen decided Tuesday night in turning down a suggestion that they be paid.

The proposal came from Homer Weeks, 625 Fairview, who suggested councilmen receive $20 or $25 a meeting as partial compensation for all the time and energy they devote to the city.

Councilman David Wood, who said he appreciated Mr. Weeks' sentiments, argued that (1) the city probably couldn't afford to pay its elected representatives and (2) Sierra Madre has been successful in getting qualified councilmen to serve without compensation.

"If the position were paid," said Councilman Wood, "it might attract men interested primarily in the money, rather than in the city."

La Salle High Completes Athletic Field Track

Athletic facilities at La Salle High School were expanded this week with the completion of the $2,300 track curbing encircling the athletic field of the 12-acre campus. A $2,500 athletic equipment building is near completion.

Griffin and Sons Contractors, Sierra Madre, are constructing the field equipment building and will grade the track. C and H Contractors of Temple City laid the curbing. Howard Trudeau of San Marino, Parents' Club member, was responsible for architectural work.

The La Salle Parents' Association, headed by Julian Beisel of San Marino, is responsible for the financial backing.

Little League Ends Tryouts—Play Ball!

Little League tryouts have been completed and 15-member squads will be selected soon, it was announced yesterday by the Sierra Madre Baseball Association.

About the latter part of April, six fully equipped Little League teams, four Babe Ruth squads and three or four Minor League teams will be ready to play competitive ball.

League officials, meanwhile, urged everybody to "clean house" for the rummage sale scheduled later this month by the Baseball Association. Clothes, furniture and other items may be left at the Wistaria Cab Co. office.

For pickups of rummage, call ELgin 5-1597 or 1598.

Tryouts for the Babe Ruth League will continue every Saturday at 9 a.m. in the City Ball Park. It was pointed out that local boys 13 to 15 years of age, including those who attend St. Rita's School but do not live in Sierra Madre, are eligible to play.

Little League coaches and managers will meet at 7:30 o'clock this evening in City Hall.

'City in Red' Charge Refuted by Mayor

Candidate Sees 'Drastic Tax Hike'

City Attorney Charles R. Martin

San Marinar Gets City Attorney Post

Charles R. Martin was appointed city attorney Tuesday night to fill the vacancy caused by the death of T. Guy Cornyn.

Martin, 2645 Lorain Road, San Marino, will receive $300 a month, $100 a month less than the amount paid Mr. Cornyn. He was selected from among 20 applicants, eight of whom were interviewed by the Council.

Graduated from the University of Southern California in 1947, Martin has been city attorney and city prosecutor of San Marino since January, 1954, and city attorney at Monterey Park since 1956.

He is an instructor in public administration, zoning and planning at USC, Martin, with offices at 2304 Huntington Dr., San Marino, is 34 years old.

IN OTHER business, the Council discussed at great length the problem of drainage from the Passionist Fathers' Retreat property.

City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington, who also is a city engineer, presented an estimate which placed the cost of diverting water from the Passionist Fathers to the Lima St. storm drain at more than $10,000.

Finally, after many members of the audience had expressed their opinions, the Council instructed the new city attorney, Charles R. Martin, to study the legality of the question and report at the next meeting.

THE COUNCIL also debated for more than an hour the cost of improving the ball diamond at the city water

A candidate for Council charged Monday night that the city currently is spending far more than its income and must either "retrench or raise taxes drastically" to make ends meet.

The statement was made by Albert S. Myers, a former mayor, and immediately refuted by Mayor Charles H. James. City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington said later that Myers' figures are misleading.

Myers, in a printed sheet distributed at the candidates' meeting Monday in Sierra Madre School, advised the audience that:

1. The city will spend in fiscal 1957-58 $755,531, while income in that period will amount to only $627,996—a deficit, according to Myers, of $127,535.

2. The cost of city projects to be completed amount to more than $926,000, leaving a total deficit of approximately $298,000.

MR. MYERS' figures were challenged at the meeting by Delbert Watts, also a candidate for City Council, who asked Mayor James for his opinion.

"These figures," said Mayor James, "do not represent a correct estimate of city expenditures."

City Administrator Bevington said Myers was in some areas confusing the city budget with the bookkeeping system, which shows double expenditures when funds are transferred from one department to another.

In addition, Bevington pointed out, the city actually will not spend more than its income and, he said, is in fact in excellent financial condition.

"By July," Bevington said, "we should have nearly $300,000 in reserve, probably the largest amount on record for Sierra Madre."

HE ADDED that funds for projects to be completed have, in many cases, been accumulated over a long period of time and are soon to be spent for their designated purposes.

The Water Department, for example, has a 10-year plan and has set up a depreciation fund to line pipes and perform other improvements. Thus Sierra Madre is by no means spending more money than it takes in, he said.

Myers, an octogenarian, was mayor of Sierra Madre from 1928 to 1930 and city administrator from 1930 to 1938.

ALL NINE candidates for City Council spoke briefly and told, in general, what their qualifications are and, in some instances, why they are running. About 125 people attended the meeting.

Candidates are William Lisle, the incumbent; James McCoy, Delbert Watts, Clifford Stowell, Milton Emerson, James Abernethy, Frank

Parks, George Fleming and Myers.

They will speak again Monday evening before members of the Civic Service Group.

Lanternman To File for Assembly

Assemblyman Frank Lanternman, Republican of La Canada, announced yesterday he would file his nomination papers Friday as a candidate to succeed himself as a member of the Assembly representing the 48th

Frank Lanternman

District. He has served in office four successive terms.

The 48th District has a majority of 19,000 Republican registrations. Lanternman, a staunch Republican, says he will cross file on the Democratic ballot as he has done at each previous primary election. He has the solid Republican endorsement, as usual.

Lanternman is regarded as a conservative legislator who has devoted his special attention to the problems of local government, metropolitan taxation, water development, state fiscal affairs and budget procedures.

"I am deeply concerned with the ever-increasing tax burden on the property owners of this state," he said. "I am dedicated to do something constructive to relieve them of unnecessary duplications of services at all levels of government, state and local."

Assemblyman Lanternman's family founded the foothill community of La Canada in 1896 and his grandfather was owner of the 6,000-acre Rancho La Canada.

Lanternman, president of the Board of the Valley Water Co. of La Canada, is 56 years of age and is a bachelor.

Linda Nehls Chosen Queen of Wistaria

Green-eyed Linda Nehls has been chosen queen of the 1958 Wistaria Vine Festival in Sierra Madre.

Queen Linda is 17, stands 5 feet 4, and endows upon her senior classmates at Pasadena High the same smile which won her the title. She lives at 615 E. Orange Grove Ave., Sierra Madre, and loves swimming nearly as well as playing the piano.

AS REIGNING sovereign she will wear a crown of lavender wistaria blossoms, placed upon her head by Sierra Madre's city administrator, Larry Bevington.

Serving with her is a royal court of four princesses, Janet Dickson, Christine Dinwiddie, Susan Glass and Meredith Mitchell.

Queen Linda and her court will be honored at a royal dinner as guests of new Hesperia Inn, Hesperia, on Saturday, March 15.

The Wistaria Vine Festival, one of Southern California's oldest traditional fetes, opened on March 6, and is expected to close in mid-April.

FIRST SPECIAL event scheduled is Camera Day, Tuesday, March 18, with Artists' Day to follow on Thursday, March 20, both timed for the peak of the historic vine's blooming season.

On Sunday, April 6, the 25-year custom of Easter Sunrise Service beneath the vine will be repeated, according to Virginia Summers, festival manager.

Future of Our Library

The story of the Sierra Madre Public Library is a dramatic one and promises to be still more unusual in the coming years, providing we, as citizens, support it as befits possibly the most educational medium in our town.

The story should be told now, during National Library Week, March 16 to 22, and retold in the months ahead when the new city budget is being prepared.

Today, the Sierra Madre Library circulates annually nearly 85,000 books, compared with some 42,000 in 1946.

BOOK COLLECTIONS during this period have increased only slightly, though, compared with the phenomenal boost in circulation. The Library buys about 1,000 books annually and discards nearly the same amount that have become too worn out to use.

We now have about 18,500 books in the Library. In 1946, there were approximately 16,000. The population of Sierra Madre has increased in those years from 7,000 to 9,000 excluding the hundreds of families that have moved into surrounding areas and use our library, too.

Sierra Madre, in other words, has about two books per each resident. We should have at least three, according to the American Library Association.

The Library's operating expenses have increased from $9,000 annually in 1946 to $23,000 today.

It's obvious from these figures that the use of the Library has grown mightily. Imagine what the situation will be in 1980 when our population reaches the 12,300 mark?

WE WILL need nearly twice as many books in the stacks, a much bigger budget, a larger Library staff and additional space to house the increased number of volumes.

Very shortly, in fact, we will run out of shelf space for children's books, and in approximately four years adult books will be stacked on the floor.

Presently, the Library Board is considering using the Community Room of the Library for children's books. This will mean that the Friends of the Library and the club's many activities will have to move elsewhere.

There seems little doubt that the Library needs close attention, both from residents of the town and by councilmen in the preparation of the new budget.

A good library, after all, is one of our community's most important assets, every bit as important as a swimming pool or baseball field.—H.W.E.

Sack the Chemise

We are, indeed, living in a peculiar era. The flagpole sitters are passe, as are the marathon dancers and the coonskin encased swallows of live goldfish.

But never fear! Time marches on, they say, and progress is inevitable. We now have Rock 'n Roll and the sack dress, the latter of which horror is the subject of this essay. The former is too ghastly to think about, while some hope still remains that the female will mend her ways before the American male flees to an even more remote gin mill.

THE SACK dress, now masquerading under the more appealing name, chemise, apparently was born of desperation by fashion designers in need of a fast buck.

Women, it seems, will fall for anything except the advice of their husbands, so naturally they took to the sack like sheep following the leader over a steep cliff.

They've succeeded in hiding their God-given talents to such an extent that the chemise adorned female is unrecognizable from a Mongolian sheep herder.

Perhaps, though, the women are only being democratic, because in the sack dress they all look alike—fat, skinny, tall, short or just pleasingly plump, it makes no difference. The burly bag makes them all look like a sack of potatoes with legs.

SINCE THE female of the species is willing to spend untold millions buying girdles and other accoutrements known in the trade as foundation garments, it's completely illogical for her to hide her expensively molded figure beneath a beach tent.

It just doesn't make sense. And since the American female is, above all, a sensible creature (not very logical but sensible), chances are the sack dress will shortly go the way of the seven-day bike race.

And maybe by that time Rock 'n Roll will have slipped down the drain also.

Ah, perfect world! — H.W.E.

From The Canton Independent-Sentinel, Canton, Pa.: Interesting is the announcement that John D. Hertz, who rose from a penniless immigrant Hungarian boy to an American millionaire, is allocating most of his fortune, which may run in to "many millions of dollars" to a scholarship fund for training young men and women as mechanical and electrical engineers.

Mr. Hertz, who is now 78 years old and a partner in Lehman Brothers, investment bankers, became disturbed by newspaper reports that the Russians "are turning out 100 per cent more engineers than we are." To offset Soviet advances in training engineers, he has made immediately available enough money to subsidize more than 100 students a year. The trustees of the fund, which will be called "The Fanny K. and John D. Hertz Engineering Scholarship Fund," will have full discretion in the administration of the money.

However, Mr. Hertz has made the following stipulations:

1. There must be no discrimination in giving aid with regard to race, religion or sex.
2. All those receiving aid must take a course in American history.

3. They must pledge themselves to serve the United States on request of the Government in time of national emergency.

In explaining the aims of the fund, Mr. Hertz said: "I simply want to contribute in the interest of defense the fortune the United States has allowed me to accumulate." And, later, he said he was interested in "the poor boy or girl who really wants an education but can't get it."

From The Catskill Mountain Star, Saugerties, N. Y.: The great American cities are booming in population. But millions of people still prefer the smaller towns, the grass-roots feel and atmosphere, the way of life that goes with the countryside.

Recently an employment agency ran a three-line ad in the New York Times offering jobs on country weekly newspapers. From that single, tiny notice more than 60 replies were received. This caused the American Press to say that "there may be many newspapermen who have gone to the cities to seek their fortunes and, after a few frustrating months or years, long to return to the country..."

Washington and Small Business

By C. Wilson Harder

Washington is becoming concerned in some quarters in fairly well authenticated reports that Big Business is not offering college graduates the bonanza deals that have been the practice in the past.

This fact, more than perhaps anything else, is taken as a sure sign of an end of an era when Big Brother would take care of every thing.

Thus, there is great concern now whether or not independent business is in a position to take up the employment needs of college graduates, now that the big corporations are curtailing.

With unemployment reaching new postwar highs, and some authorities expecting it to reach at least 5,000,000, job opportunities for the youthful, but ambitious inexperienced is taking on the dimensions of a grave problem.

Many legislators remember the 1929 crash that was brought about by unlimited mergers and building of monopolies at the expense of the development of independent enterprise.

Then, as now, the most highly mentally trained of the nation's youth were restricted in their opportunities for employment. And thus in short order, they became the leading supporters of that new political trend that swept the nation which in time was called the New Deal.

It was also the disillusioned young people of Germany who turned to Hitler in a Germany where giant cartels had stamped out free enterprise.

For years one of the cardinal points of the National Federation of Independent Business has been that for the American economy to expand, there must be opportunity for independent business to expand, and artificial risks connected with launching new enterprises must be removed.

Not a small part of these risks is an unrealistic tax set up whereby small business cannot keep sufficient of earnings, when it starts to make earnings, to apply on paying off debts entered into for capital investments, to provide for expansion.

Of late, this problem has been aggravated by the increased interest rates imposed on borrowers of capital. Yet, as evidenced by a recent nationwide poll of the membership of the Federation, the majority of the nation's independent businessmen do not feel cheap money is the answer to the problem.

Rather, the roots are much deeper. Unchecked monopolistic practices by the huge corporations, plus the unrealistic application of tax laws to small business, and a final major cause which militate against the starting of sufficient numbers of new independent enterprises needed to keep pace with the nation's population growth.

And not an inconsiderable slackening in employment opportunities for youth has been caused by rash of mergers.

Many of these mergers affected independent firms where it had long been felt that the sons would join dad in the business.

However, when due to inequitable tax formulas, and pressures exerted by violations of the anti-trust laws, dad had to accept a merger offer to survive, sons had been eliminated from consideration. You can expect hear much more about the employment problem of youth.

Will Spring Bring End of Recession?

By Robert G. Spivack
SIGNS OF SPRING—Is the great winter economic freeze over? Has a Spring thaw begun to set in? In short are we starting to pull out of the 1958 "recession"?

Little signs here and there offer cause for hope. They are not very many and they still do not justify a "planned recession"—planned by the Federal Reserve and the "tight money" advocates—if that's what we have been experiencing in recent months.

You get some idea of how few and far between good news has been on the economic front from President Eisenhower's recent press conference. When asked if the Administration has a tax cut bill ready in the event things get worse, the President said "no."

But he went on to cite a report from The Wall St. Journal about an upturn in the machine-tool industry. This is a more important statistic, the President explained than a "falling off in department store sales" (he meant department store sales). The report appeared in the paper just a few hours before the 10:30 a.m. press conference but the President seized on it to spread a little cheer.

THE "TOOL TURNABOUT" as the experts call it, does have economic significance because the tool industry is one of the nation's important economic barometers. Last December the industry suffered its worst month in eight years. Things picked up a little in January and spurred sharply in February.

The upturn hasn't been rapid enough yet to cause anybody to throw his hat in the air. In fact, the tool-makers business is nearly 70 per cent below what it was a year ago. But around the industry there are two kinds of reports: (1) new buying climbed 4 per cent since January (2) More buyers were showing interest in making purchases, even though orders have not yet been placed.

Executives in major manufacturing plants have begun to talk of replacing old equipment. They figure more modern machinery will cut production costs. When businessmen begin to think in those terms instead of retrenchment, it's a cause for glee instead of gloom.

NEUBERGER V.S. MORSE—What looked like an effective "liberal" political team in the Senate is splitting up. The two men who no longer see eye-to-eye are Wayne Morse and Richard Neuberger. They are not exactly at each others' throats. Right now they are speaking in a "more in sorrow than in anger" vein. But the split is unmistakable and neither of them makes any effort to minimize it.

The first signs of the break came last summer during the civil rights debate. Despite a lot of denials many of the Northwestern Democrats had their eyes on Hells Canyon along with civil rights. The Southern Democrats held the Hells Canyon "carrot" in front of their noses as a reward if their Western colleagues would help weaken the jury trial sections of the Administration bill.

As I recall it Morse went along with the gentlemen from Dixie for a while. Then when the final bill came up, Neuberger accepted a compromise version as better than no bill at all. But Morse opposed the final measure, contending it did not go far enough.

The whole picture was pretty muddled by that time. There were lots of recriminations on all sides and except for possibly Sen. Douglas (D. Ill.) no one had anything to be proud about.

After it was over, Morse was supposed to have made some cracks about Neuberger being "sucked in" by the Southern Democrats. While he denied singling out his Oregon colleague the bad feeling is said to date from that remark.

In any event this last week saw the two men at odds again. This time it was over raising the postal rates for first class mail from 3 to 5 cents. Neuberger cast the deciding vote in favor of the increase in the Senate Post Office Committee. Morse denounced the action as "brazen" and "unholy."

The two men clashed on the floor about it. Morse objected to Neuberger's interruptions of his speech. Finally Neuberger said:

"If, in order to go along with Sen. Morse, I have to suppress my honest convictions regarding postal rate policies, that is too high a price to pay."

There are so few liberal senators this division on the Oregon team seems like a costly luxury.

Your Congressman . . .

Postal Rate Issue Mired in Politics

By Edgar W. Hiestand
Rep., 21st District

The fate of proposed increases in mail rates and postal workers' pay will be decided by Congress shortly.

These extremely complicated proposals unfortunately have been used as political footballs for several years. During this congressional election season the political aspects stand out.

Generally it would be considered "good politics" to give the postal workers a pay boost. They represent a well organized and large voting bloc. Likewise it would be considered "bad politics" to increase the average householder to pay more every time he puts a letter in the mail.

Though first class mail rates haven't changed in 25 years and although rising costs of service have plunged the Post Office Department deep into the red.

The House last August passed a bill raising the cost of mail rates. Last week the Democrat-controlled Senate passed a bill combining a rate increase with a pay increase.

Now the House and Senate bills will be considered in conference, the differences between the two bills are large. The amounts of rate increases, and a final version written presumably based on the features of the Senate bill, which calls for increases in pay AND rates.

This will be sent to the President, who either has to swallow both proposals or reject them both. Whichever he does, the bad aspects can be used as political fodder against the administration party.

Many of these mergers affected independent firms where it had long been felt that the sons would join dad in the business.

However, when due to inequitable tax formulas, and pressures exerted by violations of the anti-trust laws, dad had to accept a merger offer to survive, sons had been eliminated from consideration. You can expect hear much more about the employment problem of youth.

The Island of Capri, 18 miles out in the Bay from Naples, is 3 1/2 miles in length from east to west, about two miles wide with a very irregular shore line, and 1,929 feet above sea level at Monte Solaro, its highest point, almost straight up from the African sea.

The silhouette of the Island, as seen from the Naples side, is roughly like a saddle, whose rounded pommel is Monte Solaro at the east end, the high back is Monte Solaro at the west, with the bustling town of Capri nestled in its seat, and the quiet village of Anacapri halfway up the saddle's back. The island's total area is only 5 1/2 square miles, its basic population only about 8,000; yet, in its smallness it seems vast!

THERE ARE no sizable level spots on the Island; every street, road, and footpath is on a slope and on a curve, a fact which provides an infinite variety of view. The Island's luxuriant fertility, carefully preserved by the natives at great labor, makes possible nearly, if not all, the trees, shrubs, flowers, fruits and vegetables to be found in south half of the Golden State in the U.S.A.

Its native wine is excellent, when not tampered with. Its gray stone ledges, cliffs, walls and peasants' houses have seen the starts, stops, and flows of successive human cultures for 3,000 years, and you feel this wherever you walk and take time to observe.

The brilliance of Capri's sunshine, the clearness and purity of its air and surrounding sea water, the spectacular the coming election. Thus the way of politics.

ANOTHER highly political dilemma facing the President is whether to keep or fire Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

Benson wants to get rid of high farm price supports. These, he argues, don't help the farmer the way they should, and work a vast hardship on the consumer.

Some farm bloc congressmen maintain that Benson is a political liability. Meanwhile congressmen representing the urban areas, as well as those from areas where farmers must buy large quantities of price-supported feed grains for their livestock, are rallying to Benson's support.

Capitol Hill bristled last week with behind-the-scenes Benson supporters who contend that the average consumer—the man whose high taxes boost his own food prices—doesn't have enough voice on farm policies.

A man making $6,000 a year not only has to pay high taxes to support a subsidy program, but he also has to pay about $20 a year more than he otherwise would have to pay just for the bread he buys, it was pointed out in Congress. These are the policies which Benson wants to halt.

The truth is that although today only 12 per cent of the population lives on farms—as opposed to 65 per cent of the people a hundred years ago—the Agriculture Committees don't want to report any legislation that might displease the Southern or Midwestern farm bloc.

Benson, who tries to think in terms of the consumer as well as the farmer, gets forced into a position where he has to take the blame from both sides.

I'm hopeful that the current farm bloc revolt may clear the air to show who is supporting the "special interests" and who is thinking in terms of "all the people."

SMALL BUSINESS has been getting a greater share of prime military orders each year since the House Banking and Currency Committee, on which I serve, established the Small Business Administration in 1953.

This was the intent of the Committee in setting up the SBA, along with its desire and the desire of the Administration to help the small business generally. In the third quarter of 1957, latest figures available, small businesses got 19 per cent of prime military orders, as against 18.2 per cent in the same period of 1956.

In the last six months of 1957, military contracts earmarked for small business under a set-aside program increased to $358 million from the $325 million set aside in the same 1956 period. This set-aside program to help small business has totaled $2.2 billion in 29,275 orders since 1953.

If you represent a small business seeking government contracts, you can get information through the Los Angeles office of the Small Business Administration.

Isle of Capri Draws Big Tourist Trade

By Edward Lloyd Voorhees

The Island of Capri, 18 miles out in the Bay from Naples, is 3 1/2 miles in length from east to west, about two miles wide with a very irregular shore line, and 1,929 feet above sea level at Monte Solaro, its highest point, almost straight up from the African sea.

The silhouette of the Island, as seen from the Naples side, is roughly like a saddle, whose rounded pommel is Monte Solaro at the east end, the high back is Monte Solaro at the west, with the bustling town of Capri nestled in its seat, and the quiet village of Anacapri halfway up the saddle's back. The island's total area is only 5 1/2 square miles, its basic population only about 8,000; yet, in its smallness it seems vast!

THERE ARE no sizable level spots on the Island; every street, road, and footpath is on a slope and on a curve, a fact which provides an infinite variety of view. The Island's luxuriant fertility, carefully preserved by the natives at great labor, makes possible nearly, if not all, the trees, shrubs, flowers, fruits and vegetables to be found in south half of the Golden State in the U.S.A.

Its native wine is excellent, when not tampered with. Its gray stone ledges, cliffs, walls and peasants' houses have seen the starts, stops, and flows of successive human cultures for 3,000 years, and you feel this wherever you walk and take time to observe.

The brilliance of Capri's sunshine, the clearness and purity of its air and surrounding sea water, the spectacular nature of its surfaces, and its unique Blue Grotto are some of the more obvious reasons it continues to draw to its shores the artists, the statesmen, the tycoons, and the tourists of the world in winter, though fewer in winter.

INDEED, it would probably be difficult to find anywhere a world traveler who has not at some time visited Capri—some for only over night, others for weeks, months, or the rest of their lives.

Some visitors are at first impressed, later repelled; some find the Island too small and crowded after a short visit; others have tragic love affairs, induced by "that Capri air," and leave in sorrow, vowing never to return. The intangible magnetism of this unique island seems to be as potent and as perennial in its way as was the ancient Rock of the Sirens, as related by Homer in the tale of Ulysses. Because of a popular song, "The Isle of Capri," the majority of Americans now mispronounce the name of the island, making it rhyme with "Marie." The rest of the world, including the Caprese themselves, pronounce it to rhyme with "moppy."

Musical note: Guitars are now tops in the mail order musical instrument department, edging out harmonicas which were in first place for many years. Experts credit popularity of westerns and western music. Ukuleles are in third place.

Lime Pie Secret Rests In Choice of Fruit

By Toni Maurin
SY 7-9634

Several people asked me if I wouldn't try to get Mrs. Leland (Veronica) Marsh to give me her recipe for lime pie. She was more than glad to, but I must warn you that the true secret of this pie is in using Rangpou limes.

They differ in appearance and flavor from the regular limes, having more of a tangerine color. They are prolific bearers in the Southland, and this pie would warrant having a tree of your own.

RANGPOUR LIME PIE

1 baked and cooled 9" pie shell.

4 egg yolks beaten until thick and lemon colored

1 15 oz. Eagle Brand milk
1 cup Rangpou lime juice
Combine the above and put in pie shell. Top with the following meringue:

Beat four egg whites with 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar and 1/2 tsp. salt until stiff peaks form. Gradually add 1/2 cup sugar in peaks and brown in a preheated 400°F. oven until golden. Chill before serving. Serves eight.

I HAVE found that there is no middle camp with Zucchini. You either like it or you don't like it. I am on the pro side of the fence and I keep hoping that some of these wonderful recipes that have been submitted to me will win more followers if they are given half a chance. Mrs. Marsh's recipe might just turn the trick.

ZUCCHINI CASSEROLE
6 or 8 good sized zucchini.
2 lbs. butter
1 cup buttered crumbs
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/2 cup chopped onions
1 4 oz. pkg. dried beef
4 slices pimento cheese
Melt 2 lbs. butter in a large pan and add onion. Cook till transparent, but do not brown. Cut off ends of washed zucchini, removing part of the peeling.

Using a medium shredder, shred over onion and stir. Add cut up dried beef and pepper and stir again. Grease and flour a 7 1/2 x 12" casserole and then place one half of the buttered crumbs in the bottom. Add zucchini mix and cover with the pimento cheese slices. Cover with the remaining bread crumbs.

Bake in a preheated 325°F. oven for one half hour covered and one half hour uncovered. Serve immediately.

MRS. MARSH'S interest is in her home making. She and her husband live in a lovely old English style house at 657 Grandview, and she has many old family pieces which she has kept and refinished. Although they have two sons and three daughters all married and away from home, they keep in constant touch.

Last fall they took a 7,500 mile trip to visit them all. Their fondest hope is that part of the family at least will move a little closer one day. They both came out here from Grinnell, Iowa, in 1952 and Mr. Marsh is associated with John C. Loomis, real estate and insurance brokers.

Mrs. Marsh is sunshine hostess of the Sierra Madre Garden club and Mr. Marsh is the president. She is also a member of the Eastern Star. She thoroughly enjoys entertaining in her home and she has friends in from far and wide. In addition to her other talents, she is a registered nurse, having taken her training at the Iowa Methodist Hospital.

'Phone Co. Plans Expansion

A comprehensive program of expansion and improvement is being undertaken this year by California Water & Telephone Co. that will entail the expenditure of more than $13,000,000, it was announced this week by Peter A. Nenzel, general manager of the utility.

"Of this amount, construction projects within the telephone division will require about $10,000,000, with the balance to be used in the company's water divisions," Nenzel said.

"The completion of this construction schedule is dependent upon speedy and adequate rate relief by the California Public Utilities Commission on the company's present rate application and a favorable decision by the State Supreme Court concerning the multi-message unit rate matter," Nenzel stated.

"$11,000,000, almost 90 per cent of the entire construction requirement, will have to be raised from outside sources," said the general manager. "Of this amount, $5,000,000 will be made available shortly through the sale of bonds, and the balance of the necessary construction funds will have to be raised later this year by other financing methods."

"Of the telephone division allocation, almost $748,250 will be expended in the Monrovia District before December 31, 1958," District Manager Ralph Dutro pointed out.

"The largest single local item on the 1958 program," said Ralph Dutro, "is $748,250 for the addition of central office equipment and additional outside plant facilities for new service and for regrading of service for present subscribers."

When you need it most, the influence you thought you had is very apt to vanish.

It is almost compulsory to start out a column this week with a "Faith and Begorra." Never was there such a strong fraternity as that of the Irish, Shure, come Monday, the world will be absolutely jaundiced as it bursts forth with "the wearin' of the green."

Long forgotten droplets of Irish blood will suddenly tingle in the veins and demand to be recognized for what they are. If ye have one drop, you're Irish.

Zooks, I feel like a bloody turncoat, with nary an ancestor who had sense enough to be born on the Emerald Isle. I'm just going to skulk around all day and pout. At least I can have my green mashed potatoes with orange gravy for dinner and pretend a bit!

DR. AND MRS. Robert L. Mueller of 1660 Old House Road had a delightful Hawaiian Ball last week. The house was decorated in true Hawaiian style with gentle strains of native music drifting about as their costumed guests made a fair stab at free style hula dancing.

At midnight they served a Cantonese dinner at low matted tables with chop sticks as hardware. It was a delightful departure from the usual midwinter party. Among the natives were Messrs. and Mesdames Larry Garland, E. Marshall Harris, Joseph Philipson, George Clark, John Chapman, Ernest Maurin, Alkan Armstrong and Charles Goldsworthy.

MR. AND MRS. Millard Jacobs have finally moved into their beautiful Oriental modern home at 1625 Kinneloa Mesa. Although they are still in the throes of unpacking boxes they are enjoying every minute of their magnificent view and acres of space. They have two sons, Paul, 11, and Peter, 6. The Jacobs were long time residents of the lower Ranch. Mr. Jacobs is a partner and vice president of the Carter Co. in L.A. They are investment realtors and contractors and handle a good many industrial contracts. He also belongs to the large family of Caltech graduates that live in this area.

SPEAKING OF homes, Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Morgridge have moved into their recently completed home at 2973 Meyer Lane. Their home is one of the most dramatic modern homes in the area, having stone facades that seem to bring the outside right into the house. Mr. Morgridge designed the home himself, being an architect with Smith, Powell and Morgridge. They have three daughters, Sarah, 10, Susan, 8, and Shan, 4.

BIRTHDAY-WISE, Christine Crane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hitt Crane Jr., 1580 Old House Road, celebrated her 57th birthday last weekend with a "cotton-pink candy" party. The entire decorations were carried out in this color, and the delight of the guests upon entering was the candy tree fashioned by her mother.

Before serving refreshments the children were treated to an eye-opening magic show. The young party attendees included Miss Mueller, Debbie Maurin, Greg White, Jeannie Philipson, Gretchen Garland, Brian Sandberg, Bobby Lynette, Gayle Reitman, Lynne Miller, Jean Jackson, Polly Ann Rasmussen, Tom Rasmussen, Rosalie Mandala, Kathy and Johnny Crane and Christine's sister, Cheryl.

TO END ON a rather serious note. I am afraid that we hill dwellers are apt to be a bit complacent about traffic. Just recently a young woman crashed her car into a stone retaining wall and caused herself a good deal of injury in order to avoid hitting two heedless youngsters who had dashed into the street without looking. These accidents can be avoided with a little thoughtfulness from pedestrians as well as drivers.

CALTECH LECTURE
"Vorticity: Left-handed and Right-handed Fluid" is the title of this week's Friday Evening Demonstration Lecture at the California Institute of Technology. The lecture will be given by Dr. Donald Coles at 7:30 p.m. in room 201 Bridge Hall of Physics. The general public is invited.

Rudd Brown Hits 'Antique Thinking' of Hiestand

Rudd Brown, seeking to unseat Edgar Hiestand in the House of Representatives, and Listie Snively, running for the State Assembly post long held by Frank Lanterman, spoke to members of the Hastings Ranch Democratic Club last week and revealed some of the ammunition they plan to use in attempting to gain the desired offices.

Mrs. Brown, tall, attractive granddaughter of William Jennings Bryan, a daughter of former congressman-ambassador Ruth Bryan Owen Rhode, and wife of Caltech geochemist Harrison Brown, appeared conversant with national and international problems and termed them "interlocking issues."

She struck at what she called the "antique nature of Mr. Hiestand's thinking," and said, "You cannot deal successfully with today's

Clipper Club Plans Dinner, Africa Program

Members of the Clipper Club of Trinity Presbyterian Church will meet next Thursday night for a potluck supper and a program highlighted by a discussion on Africa led by students from Occidental.

Hosts for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Bill Warden, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lemmon, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zemer and Mr. and Mrs. Al Korngebel.

Pomona Alumnae Meeting

Members of Pomona College Alumnae Club of Pasadena met last night in the home of Mrs. Robert Ringle, 475 Sequoia Dr.

Following desert, Dr. Chester G. Jaeger, professor of mathematics at the college in Claremont and mayor of the City of Claremont, spoke on "Town Meets Gown."

Mrs. Ringle was assisted by Mrs. William E. Ward, Mrs. Benjamin O. Rees, Mrs. Richard C. Ferrand, Mrs. William P. Skinner and Mrs. Warren H. Dunning II.

The club includes women who have attended Pomona College and now live in Alhambra, Altadena, Arcadia, La Canada, La Crescenta, Monrovia, Monterey Park, Pasadena, San Gabriel, San Marino, Sierra Madre, South Pasadena, South San Gabriel and Temple City.

Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae Meet

A tour of Descanso Gardens will be taken this morning by Alpha Delta Pi alumnae.

Members will meet at the Hospitality House at 10:30 for a short business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. Harj Crockett. The agenda will include the naming of the nominating committee and a discussion of plans for the group's annual fashion-tea benefit on April 26.

Mrs. Raymond Bitter, program chairman, has arranged the "sack lunch," tour and motion picture which will follow.

Field PTA Plans Youth Program

Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds, Brownies and other youth groups sponsored by the PTA at Eugene Field, will provide the program for the March Association meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the cafeteria.

Hostesses for the refreshment hour to follow the meeting will be the following grade room mothers:

Mrs. William Smylie, Mrs. M. E. Anderson, Mrs. N. E. Pechota, Mrs. R. Aeberly, Mrs. R. A. Crinkley, Mrs. Richard Cannon, Mrs. Samuel Joseph, Mrs. K. Lauritzen, Mrs. J. G. Steffens, Mrs. Willard Olwin and Mrs. D. Bryant.

Chi Omega Alumnae Meet Tonight

Chi Omega Junior Alumnae of Pasadena area will meet tonight at 7:45 in the home of Mrs. Charles Hamilton, 194 Loma Vista. Following the business meeting those members who wish will play bridge.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. James Bridges and Mrs. Granville E. Pike. Chi Omega in the Pasadena area are welcome.

problems unless you know what the issues are."

She labeled as "dangerous" his "pre-occupation with our return to the gold standard," his stands against labor unions and for divorce, and the United Nations.

Mrs. Brown, just returned from Washington where she was a member of the National Conference on Foreign Aspects of United States National Security, reported on the meeting to members. She said the conference, which included speeches by John Foster Dulles and President Eisenhower, as well as Adlai Stevenson, Harry Truman, Dean Acheson and other political and church figures, was designed to produce interest in our foreign aid program.

Mrs. Brown was introduced at the meeting by Jack McKenna, Hastings Ranch attorney, former Club president, and newly elected chairman of the 21st Congressional District Democratic Council.

The 21st District Council met last week to endorse Mrs. Brown.

Listie Snively, who was unsuccessful two years ago in his attempt to "retire" Frank Lanterman, also has been officially endorsed by the Democrats. He was introduced by Dores Sharp, chairman of the 48th Assembly District Council, and also a Hastings member.

Snively said he has spent much time since his last campaign in following Lanterman's record in the state legislature and has been told by fellow Republican assemblymen that his inconsistent voting record makes Lanterman's a "vacant chair" in the assembly.

Snively, who opposes Lanterman's bid to raise assembly salaries to $12,000 a year, said he is making a bid for Democratic Club support throughout his district, and also has an active "Republican for Snively" campaign underway.

Mrs. Joseph Nominated Field Pres.

Mrs. Samuel Joseph, who has served both as PTA legislative chairman and a room representative at Eugene Field this year, is slated to become the Association's next president.

Mrs. Joseph's selection was announced by the nominating committee headed by Mrs. John Kane, along with these PTA members for other elective posts:

Mrs. Joseph Cummins, first vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Stanley Wochnik, second vice president and finance chairman; David Orswell, third vice president and chairman of the men's committee; Mrs. Elbert Cox, fourth vice president and publicity chairman; Mrs. Jack Steffens, fifth vice president and room representative chairman; Mrs. Rex Thompson, secretary; Mrs. Stanley Mukulka, treasurer, and Mrs. William Fox, historian.

Election will be held at the next PTA meeting, with installation in May.

Hastings Ranch News

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES for Congress and the State Assembly are shown with other party stalwarts during a meeting of the Hastings Ranch Democratic Club last Friday evening. Rudd Brown, granddaughter of William Jennings Bryan, labeled Rep. Edgar Hiestand as an "antique thinker." She will oppose Hiestand in the coming Congressional elections. Listie Snively, candidate for Assembly, said he opposes the stand of the incumbent, Frank Lanterman, to raise Assembly salaries to $12,000 a year. From left are Dores Sharp, 48th Assembly chairman; Snively, Rudd Brown, Jack McKenna, newly elected chairman of the 21st Congressional District Democratic Council, and Art Reilly, president of the Hastings Ranch Democratic Club.

Hi, everyone! Sandy McLain had a slumber party Friday night, and from what I hear everyone there had a ball. Those who enjoyed the fun of eating, drinking cokes and listening to records, plus the regular talk at any slumber party—boys—were Sandy McLain, Molly Reddon, Janet Burpee, Judy Quick, Pam Oiler, Diane Betten-court and T. J. Flannery. They got to bed at 2 a.m.

WE ARE all glad to see Ronnie Budnick back at school. As most of you know, Ronnie was doing a flyaway, which is a gymnastic trick, on the rings, and he flopped when he should have flipped. He broke both of his wrists. Welcome back to the old grind, Ronnie.

WE ARE very honored to have two of our Marshall girls in the finals for Wistaria Queen. They are Chris Dinwiddie and Janet Dixon. Congratulations, girls.

THIS LAST Wednesday our school had a double assembly which was interesting. It was a movie about the Pacific Coast. It was especially nice because first period was omitted.

PAULA SWISS had a party Friday night. Those who enjoyed the fun of dancing and eating were Paula Swiss, Lynn Milford, Diane Zels, Sheryl Harris, Karen Goddard, Dave Wattner, Terry Goddard, Mike Tibbs, Fred Harris and Neil Christensen.

WELL, THAT'S all the news for now. If you know anything of interest, be sure and let me know.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Can you do anything besides bird imitations?"

FOR THE SAKE of those of you who were a bit bewildered last Friday upon seeing so many kids ditching, they really were not doing anything like that. You see, it was BIE Day (Business, Industry, Education). This meant that the Pasadena teachers visited the different businesses and industries in order to bring back to their pupils a better picture of what they must face in later life.

The teachers enjoyed themselves, as did the students.

SHEILA DONNELL and Diana Miles represented Wistaria in the Lions Club speech contest this year. They both did a terrific job. Congratulations to both of you.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Rusty Pooler, Peter Calmer, Peter Jensen, Mike Nichols, Lea Anne Bacon, Janice Fletcher, Sheila Peters, Martha MacKenzie and Susie Shafte gathered at Chet Osborn's home. They had a great time playing games and dancing. These kids hope to make this a monthly habit.

REMEMBER how we laughed at the pictures of the "flapper" of the gay '20s. Well the last laugh is on us because that form-fitting and figure flattering style is coming back with a big bang. Yes, all the girls are getting the chemise. The girls are wild about the style but most of the guys seem to think it gives that overstuffed flower sack appeal. How long will it last?

REMINDERS: Monday is St. Patrick's Day and you know what that means. Yes,

Don Benito PTA To Sponsor Disney Program

Don Benito PTA is sponsoring a morning of movie entertainment next Saturday at 9:30 and 11 a.m. The hour long "Date With Disney" will include "A History of Aviation," "A World Is Born" (an excerpt from Fantasia), and lastly, "The Three Little Pigs." Admission is 25 cents.

Adult supervision will be provided. Everyone is welcome. Mrs. William Blair, special events chairman, is in charge.

Mrs. A. L. Pruitt Fetes Mrs. Carver

Mrs. Alpheus L. Pruitt, 3810 Cartwright, was hostess at a morning coffee honoring Mrs. William Carver, who with her husband, recently purchased a home at 3840 Cartwright.

Those neighbors in attendance to meet and welcome Mrs. Carver were Mrs. Charles Cowen Jr., Mrs. James Coleman, Mrs. Bill Garr, Mrs. Eugene Sielen, Mrs. Stewart McIlvennan, Mrs. Richard Walters, Mrs. Donald Rippling, Mrs. Frank Tobias and Mrs. Walter Burke.

Sports in Haste . . .

Oh, for a Dog's Life And a Psychiatrist's Couch

By Bill Hogoboom
(NOTE: It is our studied opinion that this week's guest writer is a very special expert in his field. Of all the people in our acquaintance there is no one going to the dogs faster than he.)

I never realized that the care and feeding of canines was considered sport until I noticed that the activities of the Westminster Kennel Club were reported under that category in "Time." Following hard upon this earth-shattering discovery, I noticed the next issue of "Sports Illustrated" had a particularly vicious looking beast on its cover, and to my amazement this self same beast was identified as a dog. I can only assume that this is simply some of that insidious Luce type propaganda designed in some manner to make even a passive dislike of dogs somehow un-American.

I hasten to add, before I find myself under investigation, that I don't dislike dogs. I don't particularly like them, but I don't dislike them either. It's about the same attitude I have toward expert skiers, bridge masters, women lawyers and father's night skits. I'm just uncomfortable around them.

EVEN IF you haven't been keeping up with the Time, wear green or suffer the consequences.

ELEVEN SCHOOL days until Easter vacation.

Inc. publications, you may have noticed in the conventional press that this is the Year of the Dog. It is the Year 4636 on the Chinese calendar.

This isn't the sort of knowledge that gets one into the Van Doren category of experts, but it might just win a year's supply of Drano on the KBIG Tele-Quiz. It might even win me a prize on a telephone quiz, except that our line is always busy. Why? Because it's the Year of the Dog.

It all began with a mutual decision arrived at after one of those typically domestic discussions where all the pros and cons are weighed, and a logical decision is made based on all the facts. I was stretched between chair and Ottoman reading a better than average novel at the time. Then, through the dim, outer fringe of my consciousness came the not unfamiliar strains of my wife's voice.

"Oh yes, honey, sure, sure, of course I'm listening. I heard every word you said. The kids need a dog. Every child needs a dog when he is growing up. I mean, if he gets a dog after he's grown then he isn't a child any more. HA, ha . . . ha. O.K., dear, sure, the pound, no expense that way. Not like that refugee from the American Kennel Club we used to have. Yep, first thing in the morning."

THE NEXT morning I had a pretty good picture of the novel, but the dog part was

Edward Bignell to Discuss Eaton Canyon Park Plans

Edward Bignell, director of school and city recreation for Pasadena, will be guest speaker at Don Benito's monthly Parent-Teacher Association meeting March 19, 8 p.m., in the auditorium.

His topic, "Recreation Plans for Eaton Canyon Park Area—To Include Nine Hole Golf Course, Picnic and Family Areas, and Eighty-eight Acre Victory Park High School Combination," is a much anticipated and long awaited reality for all Ranch residents. The public is encouraged to attend.

Las Jardineras Sets Luncheon, Arboretum Tour

Las Jardineras members and guests will tour the increasingly important, horticulturally speaking, Los Angeles County Arboretum Tuesday. The arboretum has made large strides in building, land development and landscaping since members first visited the nearby public facility.

Las Jardineras will gather first for luncheon at Eaton's, with Mrs. Harry Masser, Mrs. Arthur Krausse and Mrs. Jack Washburn arranging the event.

Each of the club's 35 members is expected to bring one or more guests.

Workshop Members To Meet

Members of Pasadena Workshop of Hastings Ranch Guild to Cystic Fibrosis Foundation will meet next Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Brooks Thomas, 1210 Tropical, at 10:30 a.m. for their regular monthly meeting.

Under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. James A. Gittinger, the group will make jeweled Easter eggs to be placed in baskets, made by members of Sierra Madre Workshop, and presented to those patients in the children's leukemia ward at City of Hope.

Those planning to be in attendance at the work session and luncheon are Mrs. Alpheus L. Pruitt, Mrs. Alfred M. Tompkins, Mrs. J. Cranor Richter, Mrs. William Also, Mrs. Paul G. Kaponaya, Mrs. Frank H. McKibbin, Mrs. John A. Moe, Mrs. K. Shiner, Mrs. Paul E. Adams and Mrs. Henry Asher.

Leo Buscaglia Speaks Tuesday On Personality

"The Role of the Family in Personality Development" is the topic for the final of a series of parent education discussions to be brought to Hastings Ranch parents at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Trinity Presbyterian Church by Leo Buscaglia, authority on speech development and therapy.

The series is brought to the area by the Hastings Ranch Nursery School through the adult education extension of Pasadena City College.

The lecture and discussion are free, and interested parents are urged to attend.

Pi Beta Phi Juniors Meet

Pi Beta Phi Junior Alumnae Club of Pasadena will meet tonight in the Arcadia home of Mrs. John R. Deniston, 2311 S. 6th Ave. at 8. All Pi Phis in the area are invited to attend.

Mrs. Lee S. Sharp, president, will have the report from the nominating committee and plans will be made for the June swimming party.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens, owners of the Balinese Shop in Pasadena, will present an illustrated discussion on "Pacific Influence on Contemporary Living."

Dessert and coffee will be served by Miss Joan Doty, Mrs. Howard E. Hill and Mrs. Martin Kohlby.

teeth marks on the sectional are repaired, and several peddlers finish the pasture treatment.

But you have to love him. He's almost human; in fact, he is human. We have provided him with a large yard, a soft bed, and better than average food. His standard of living probably places him in the upper 5 per cent of the dog population.

AND WHAT does he do? He seeks every conceivable opportunity to bolt from his lap of luxury in order to run the streets. And why does he do this? For the same reason some of his two-legged brethren do exactly the same thing. Adventure, gay, frivolous, care-free hours—girls.

Most of our waking hours are now spent on the telephone answering the frantic calls from our irate neighbors announcing that some female of the species is in danger. A Sigalert, or the impending explosion of a Russian H-bomb couldn't get through our witchboard. Do you know the authentic Cantonese explanation for the Year of the Dog? I know.

PCC FORUM

Albert Stuart Otto, historian and author of books and articles on the lesser known but intriguing aspects of Americana, will discuss "Why Do We Have Speakers, Anyway?" at the Pasadena City College Tuesday Evening Forum on March 18, at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Playhouse Satire . . .

Good Acting Compensates For Play's Slow Pace

By Edward Voorhees

"The Reluctant Debutante," new at the Pasadena Playhouse, has a very long first act, mildly amusing, while puzzling the audience through a maze of phone calls to wrong party, wrong number, not in, call later, et al, resulting in frazzled nerves for mama, sleepless nights and ulcer symptoms for father, and understandable boredom for daughter, up in London for her debut but wishing herself back in the country with her favorite horse and dogs.

However, the phone mix-up over the confused identities of two young men, both named David, is cleared up at the cocktail party in Act 2, whereupon it becomes an accelerating race for Jane between David, the impetuous bore and mama's choice, (well played by Paul Stickle), and the quietly charming David of the scandalous reputation, father's favorite (played by Michael Carey), and the choice of Jane—who has to initiate her own wooing. Her direct attack is most disarming!

EDWARD Everett Horton, who grows more puckish each year of his perennial youthfulness, is witty, amusing and winning as Father Broadbent; with Laura La Plante, still glamorous, perfectly groomed, and delightfully confused as Mrs. (Sheila) Broadbent in the details of her social procedure, in favoring David the bore; and Patti Kane, as the keen and romantically sensible Jane, whose reluctance only awaits the Prince Charming whom Jane finds, by courage at the right moment—to the horror of Mama! Patricia Slack and Eleanor Faust were a rival mother-and-daughter team.

William Douglas Howe, the British author of this London and New York success, writes lightly but feelingly from personal observation among his own upper social set.

THE RESULT is a chuckle-filled satire on society's custom—exhausting to mama's nerves and father's check-book—of launching its daughters on the marriage market. And the play seems to say, just as nothing better than marriage has yet been found for the majority, given man's roving disposition, so nothing more exciting for daughter has been discovered in "high society"—by them as can stand the strains and stresses—than the coming-out party, at which there is a bettin' chance of the right man showing up, eventually.

One suspects this play has been Americanized for its westward progress from New York—in idiom and speech.

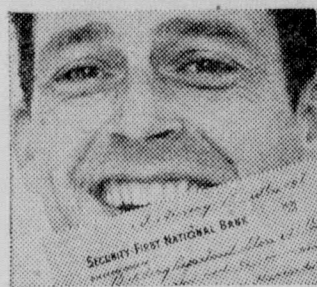

The single set of the Broadbents' apartment in London for the Season brought applause at the raising of the curtain, for its artful simplicity, as did Edward Everett Horton's speech at the end, for similar reasons. The large first-night audience was all, the cast could wish in its appreciation; indeed, it seemed to this reviewer that it is the acting of this play that compensates for its slowness of pace for the first half.

United Lutherans to Pick Name for New Church

Sierra Madre's youngest congregation, the United Lutheran mission, is about to have a name. The mission, which began services last Oct. 27, is backed by the Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America and the Pacific Southwest Synod of the ULC.

"We have been using our present name until the time came when we could intelligently choose a name which would in some way identify our church with the community and geography of this beautiful area, and at the same time convey reverence and holiness, and have the sanction of scriptural and churchly usage," said the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor.

"NOW THAT we are about to open our charter roll Easter Sunday, our people are busy thinking of a suitable name."

A list of 57 possible names is being considered by worshippers, who also have the privilege of suggesting such names as are not on the list. "It is a rare privilege to be able to name a church, as well as to become a charter member," Pastor Hansen said. "If you are not a Lutheran now, you can qualify for membership by attending our 7 p.m. Wednesday discussions and having your question about the Lutheran faith answered."

SUGGESTED NAMES for the church include Advent Lutheran Church, Angelica, Bethlehem, Calvary, Christ, Cross of Christ, Cross of Glory, Epiphany, Garden of Gethsemane, Grace, Gloria Dei, Holy Comforter, Holy Communion, Holy Spirit, Hope, Incarnation, Luther Memorial, Lutheran Church of the Cross, Lutheran Church of the Reformation, Messiah, Mission of the Master, Mt. Calvary, Mt. Carmel, Mt. of Olives, Mt. Zion, Our Redeemer, Our Saviour, Pentecost, Prince of Peace, Resurrection, Revelation, Salem, Sermon on the Mount, Shepherd of the Hills, Transfiguration.

The congregation worships in the upper room of the Woman's Clubhouse, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., at 10 a.m. Sundays. An adult Bible class and Sunday School is taught at 9 a.m. During Lent, Vesper services are held at 8 p.m. Wednesdays following the informal discussion group meeting at 7 p.m.

Next Sunday, Pastor Hansen will preach on "Ninth Inning Miracle," based on John 6:1-5. The following Wednesday, March 19, the meditation will be on "Longinus: Soldier, Crucifier, Believer."

MISSION BELL

PATIENCE is rare in our world of speed, hustle, missiles. We have become a nervous, hectic, restless, impatient people. Older folks and foreign tourists tell us our pace is too fast, our patience too slow. What used to be rest and recreation now spells exhaustion and depletion. We see this even in our beautiful community, still a paradise for relaxation and peace.

"REST in the Lord, and wait patiently for Him," the psalmist reminds us. (Ps. 34:7). "Be still and know I am God," counsels God in the great Reformation Psalm. Over against His pending persecutions Jesus reminded His disciples, "In your patience possess ye your souls" (Luke 21:19). The prophet Isaiah points to the source and value of patience, "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." (Isaiah 40:31). He has an hour and a season for each of us, if we wait patiently until He acts for us. Yet in such waiting we acquire new strength. New confidence is given us. "All things work together for good to them that love God." (Rom. 8:28).

IMPATIENCE causes most of our suffering. We must learn to wait for the Lord to renew our strength. He keeps every promise, if we keep patience. Our bustling and rushing will not hurry God's timetable—it may upset it! He created us and as our loving Father knows what is best for us, when, and where.

TODAY'S THOUGHT—Tired of waiting for life to become better? Try waiting upon the Lord. He will set a happier pace for you!

'Judaism in a Democracy' Is Sermon Theme

"Judaism in a Democracy" will be the subject of Rabbi Charles W. Steckel's sermon at the Friday evening services on March 14 at 8:30 o'clock, at the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, 212 N. Lima St., Sierra Madre. Cantor Salo Blumenthal will assist.

Hosts for the Oneg Shabbath following the services will be Dr. and Mrs. Louis Sparer of Pasadena.

Sabbath morning services will be conducted at 9 o'clock. The Junior Congregation will meet this morning at 10:15 for their participation in the services to be conducted by both Rabbi Steckel and Cantor Blumenthal.

Church School Tax Plan Is Men's Club Topic

The Men's Club of Faith Lutheran Church, 835 Hastings Ranch Drive, will sponsor a program of information next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the parish hall.

On the program will be Dr. Hershel R. Griffin of "Protestants United Against Taxing Schools." He will discuss the proposition which will appear on the November ballot attempting to tax non-profit elementary schools in the State.

"This subject is of special interest to the members of Faith Lutheran Church, since we operate a Christian Day School, together with Mt. Olive Lutheran Church and First Lutheran Church of Pasadena," said the Rev. A. Hesse, pastor of Faith Lutheran. "Our institution comes under this non-profit elementary category."

The Men's Club has invited the clubs of Mt. Olive and First Lutheran Churches in Pasadena to attend this presentation and discussion, according to Ed Pleschke, president of the Men's Club. People in the community who are interested are also invited.

Dr. Schaper Returns From Arizona Meet

Dr. Robert Schaper, pastor of Bethany Church, returns to the pulpit this Sunday morning after spending the past week at Arizona State University as a speaker for Spiritual Exploration Week.

He will speak this weekend for the Christian Endeavor banquet of the Pasadena division, as well as for the Orange County Christian Endeavor Convention at the First Christian Church of Fullerton.

Appearing as special guests for the Sunday night service at Bethany will be Rev. Wilfred Naujoks, soon to be on the mission field in Austria, and representatives of the Gideons International, well-known organization of businessmen.

A baptismal service was held at Bethany Church this past Sunday night. Participating in the ordinance were the following children: Linda Richter, Sandra Mond Stranske, Charlotte

Baptist Church Shows Increase In Attendance

The First Baptist Church of Sierra Madre, temporarily meeting in the Woman's Clubhouse, is enjoying an increase in attendance and interest. Rev. Leroy Hux, pastor, reported yesterday.

"The Manhood of the Lord Jesus Christ" will be the subject of the pastor at the 10:50 a.m. worship hour this Sunday. The time of the evening meetings will be moved up 30 minutes beginning this week with Training Union for the whole family at 6:30 and evening worship at 7:30. David Griffin, visitation pastor, will speak at the evening service Sunday.

SUNDAY SERVICE

"The Power of the Word" will be the subject of the Sunday morning worship services, March 16, at 9:15 and 11 o'clock, by Dr. Ethel Barnhart, at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena.

Stranske, Tim Stranske, Jeannine Smith, Donna Smith, and Kathy Cass. Adults baptized were Janice Johnson, Laurel Leeming, Connie Kintsel, Helen Cass and Archie Cress. Following the baptismal service Dr. Schaper gave a brief report on his week in Arizona.

WE'RE ASKING INVESTORS FOR $11,000,000

...to meet the ever-increasing demand for service!

Building new facilities fast enough in the fast growing California communities we serve is a BIG JOB. It's an even BIGGER job to obtain the new money needed to finance our growing line of communications. And this year they will really grow! We have increased our new construction budget to a record high. That's why we are asking for even more faith on the part of the men and women whose investments make it possible for you to have the finest and most modern telephone service in California.

Who are these investors? To date over 10,600 men, women and institutions such as insurance companies, have made it possible for us to build a $69.5 million plant to serve you. Over 8,000 of these investors are Californians. Many additional investors will be needed to furnish the $13.5 million for new construction funds this year.

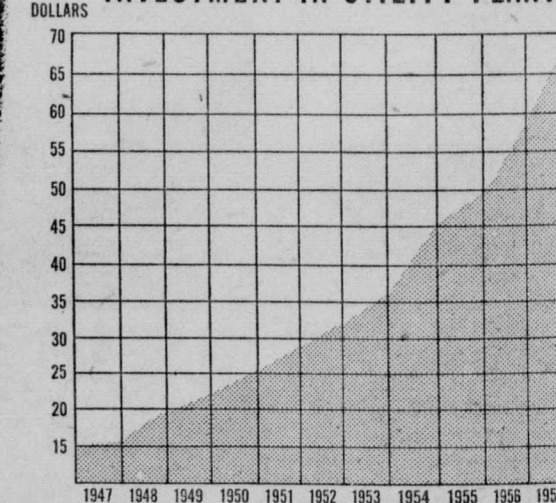

To attract these investors ... people all over the United States, people like you, like our own employees ... we must evidence an ability to pay them a fair return for their investment. That's why we, in turn, must constantly seek a reasonable return for the telephone communication service we render.

Adequate earnings for our financial safety are your assurance of continued improvements in service.

Pichard Oil Paintings In Clubhouse Display

An exhibit of oil paintings of landscapes and flowers by Madeleine Pichard, will be on display during the month of March at Sierra Madre Women's Clubhouse.

Mrs. Pichard, a native of France, has resided in Sierra Madre for 15 years and is a member of the local art group. She studied art, as a hobby, with such noted Southland artists as Jennie Crawford, Hilda Bristow and Paul Coze.

DICKENS FELLOWSHIP

Dickens Fellowship will meet next Thursday at 1:45 p.m. in the home of Mrs. J. Earl Gossard, 625 Mariposa Ave. Miss Aileen Owen and Mrs. Clara Larsen will read from "Dromby and Son."

ANOAKIA MOTHERS CLUB

Mrs. Mary Hill Arbuthnot, professor emerita of Western Reserve University of Cleveland, O., was guest speaker at a recent meeting of Anoaikia School for Girls Mothers' Club in the school chapel.

Mrs. Arbuthnot, author of "Children in Book, Time for Poetry, Time for Fairy Tales and Time for True Tales," spoke on "Books That Develop Social Consciousness in Children and Youth." She is also the co-author with William S. Grey for Basic Readers used from the first grade through the eighth grade.

An informal luncheon was served following the lecture.

LEAGUE OF CIVIC ASSNS.

Dr. Bruce Hawk, member of the staff of the County Superintendent of Schools, will be principal speaker before the assembled delegates to the League of Civic Associations of Upper San Gabriel Valley at 8 tonight at Baldwin Park Chamber of Commerce Building, 14327 Ramona Blvd.

Dr. Hawk will speak on the subject of unification of school districts, in line with the league's investigation of tax reduction by means of economies effected in the expenditures of tax monies. League delegates from numerous civic, improvement and property owners associations will carry the league recommendations back to their member organizations for further study and action. However, the meeting is not restricted to member delegates alone, and the public is welcome.

PANHELLENIC

"Planting for Summer Color" will be the subject of the talk David Gillfillan, garden editor of Pasadena Star-News, will present next Wednesday night at 8 before members of Poothill Area Panhellenic in the Arcadia home of Mrs. W. B. Bryant, 1430 Glencoe Dr.

Party hostess, Miss Mary Hinkle, will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Bishop, Miss Madeline Emmert, Mrs. T. A. Reiger and Mrs. G. W. Ross.

SANTA ANITA DAR

Members of Santa Anita Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution met in the Arcadia home of their regent, Mrs. George Spragins, 1024 Balboa Dr., for their regular monthly meeting.

Following the business meeting, members made a tour, arranged by the program chairman, Mrs. James P. Boore, of the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum.

Those members in attendance at the opening reception of the 50th State Conference, California State Society of DAR, in the Pacific Room at the Statler Hotel, were Mrs. Edward Barnes, Miss Louann Christie, Mrs. Earl Sizemore, Mrs. William Bear and Mrs. Frances Stoner.

The following day, Mrs. Spragins was accompanied to the conference luncheon by Mrs. David R. Wood, Mrs. R. Stachhouse, Miss Mary Valentine and Mrs. Arthur B. Colnon.

Social and Club Activities

AT THE last lesson this week in Red Cross civilian defense classes, these women were taught how to care for the sick and injured in a disaster. From left is Mrs. Edith Barrett, instructor; Mrs. A. W. Hand, and Mrs. Clifford Stowell. The classes were sponsored by the Sierra Madre chapter of the American Red Cross. Facilities and supplies were donated by the Sierra Madre Hospital.

Arts and Letters Society Meeting Next Tuesday

Pasadena Chapter of the National Society of Arts and Letters will meet March 18 at 2 p.m. in Pasadena Public Library.

Mrs. Anita Baicher, president, will preside at the business meeting. The program chairman, Mrs. Florence Tompkins, will introduce Mrs. Clifford Davidson, world traveler, lecturer and artist, who will present a color film of Bangkok taken during a visit in 1953.

Of special interest in the film is the showing of the Pearl Mosque, Towers of the Dawn and the Emerald Buddha as well as many pictures of the people in their colorful costumes and following their exotic way of life.

The musical part of the program will be presented by Emma Nolting and Ruth Stone, duo-pianists and members of The Tuesday Musicales.

Politicians can offer lame excuses but it doesn't take an alert public long to catch up with the cripple.

Everyone joins the fun on March 17!

Musicale Juniors Concert

The Tuesday Musicales Juniors will present their annual benefit award concert March 22 at 8:30 p.m. in Woodrow Wilson Junior High School auditorium. This is the biggest event of the year for the juniors. An award of $100 will be presented to the member who has given faithful and unselfish service to the club as well as shown outstanding musicianship and plans to continue his or her music education.

The Tuesday Musicales Juniors is sponsored by the Tuesday Musicales, the organization which formed the Civic Music Association and Civic Orchestra of Pasadena in 1929. Many juniors participate in these functions since there are many talented young artists in the club.

Those appearing in this year's concert are George Lynch, piano; Kathy Franco, voice; Minette Learned, piano; Stephen Hupp, piano; Elizabeth Elgin, harp; Doris Trillingham, piano; and Ardeth Kenninger and Marjorie Clark, fluet duet accompanied by Elizabeth Elgin on the harp.

Also, a quintet including Marjorie Gould, first violin, Ellen Bird, second violin, Michael Burton, viola, Martha Lowe, cello, and Miriam Frankel, piano. The closing program will be Gerry Klein.

The public is invited to attend this concert.

Civic Club Volunteers Hostesses

At the suggestion of Mrs. Ted Velasquez, chairman of the art exhibits committee of Friends of the Library, Sierra Madre Civic Club has assumed the responsibility of providing hostesses for the refreshment table at the monthly exhibits in the Art Room of the Public Library.

Friends of the Library have scheduled these exhibits the first Sunday of every month to display the works of a new artist, or artists, with a reception from 2 until 5 p.m.

The public is invited to the receptions. A new exhibit is slated for April 6 and two alternate hostesses from the Civic Club will preside. Mrs. George Tyree has been appointed chairman in charge of volunteers.

Anoaikia Inaugurates 'Snow Day'

Anoaikia School for Girls students recently took part in inaugurating a new tradition, "Snow Day," which will appear on the school's regular calendar in the coming years.

Buses, carrying 112 students and 12 mothers and teachers, left Anoaikia at the time classes should have convened, for the Mount Baldy area, where ski instructors took over with the assistance of Mount Baldy Ski Patrol. The girls were divided in groups of ten and equipment was distributed. For the remainder of the day, each group was under the direction of an instructor. Even though this was the first experience for many of the girls in snow, due to careful planning, there were no casualties.

Those adults accompanying the girls were Mrs. Marjorie Winfield, headmistress, Miss Joanne Woods and Miss Silvia Crossman, teachers, and Mrs. Clifford Goodwyn, president of the Mothers' Club. Mrs. Harold Feinstein, Mrs. R. J. Merritt, Mrs. James Flanagan, Mrs. W. J. Tennison and Mrs. Willard de Groot, mothers.

Prizes awarded the following week at school went to Barbara Bolly for best skier and Susan Morton who received a penguin for falling over the mountain and not getting injured.

Those girls from Sierra Madre taking part in the day's fun were Kathy Schwartz, Sydney Lammers, Doris Hoeneman, Pamela Valois and Jane Brower.

OHIO VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan S. Rockwell and their son, Kenny, and Earl Purdy, all of Twin Oak Orchards, Mt. Vernon, O., have returned to the home following a week's visit with Mrs. LolaRee Hull, 609 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

It's too much to expect—you just can't become a star by staying out all night.

Even men who can make both ends meet are getting bored—they keep hoping they will overlap a little.

E. E. Patterson Discharged From Army

Specialist 3rd Class Ernest E. Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Patterson, 88 N. Auburn, recently received his discharge from the U.S. Army at Oakland, Calif.

When he arrived at International Airport in Inglewood, 20 friends and relatives were on hand to welcome him home. The group then returned to the Patterson home for a buffet supper.

Taking part in the festivities were Mrs. Ruth Smith and her son, Carlin, Mr. and Mrs. William DeBoyton, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Stranavich, Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Patterson, Jr., and sons, Greg and Pat, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Garside, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harris and sons, Clifford and Roy, and A. T. Massich of Fresno, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Fischer of San Gabriel, were hosts at another "welcome home" dinner party with the Pattersons and their son, Emert, Mr. Massich, Pat Purdy and Carol Fischer in attendance.

Mrs. Smith of 301 Ramona, was hostess at another dinner party which included the Pattersons, Mr. Massich, Robert Freeland, Carlin Smith and Mrs. Josephine Collingwood.

Mr. Patterson has been stationed in Augsburg, Germany, for the past two years with the 11th Airborne Division. He had his basic training at Fort Ord, Calif., and paratroop training at Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

Mr. Massich, uncle of Mrs. Patterson, has been a houseguest in the Patterson home for the past month.

3 wonderful things happen when you cook electrically ...because there's no flame

1. Your kitchen stays cooler because flameless electric cooking puts the heat directly into the food, not into the room. Result: your kitchen—and family rooms adjoining kitchens—are as much as 16° cooler even in summer.
2. Your kitchen stays cleaner for longer. Flameless electric cooking produces none of the by-products of flame, no sooty smudge darkens kitchen walls and curtains. Pans keep their new look, too.
3. Your meats taste better because they cook juicier. In the electric oven there's no flame-feeding draft of hot air to dry out your roasts. They cook in moist heat that seals their good juices in. And, as you know, juice is the secret of flavor in meat.

DAR to Hear Patriotic Songs at Meeting Monday

Early patriotic songs of America will be presented by Mrs. Edwin R. Wileman, at the regular monthly meeting of Sierra Madre Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Monday evening, March 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Park House, Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Fred E. Breton will be welcomed as a new member by the regent, Mrs. Forrest Bassford, assisted by the chaplain, Mrs. Peter A. Klomp.

State conference reports and the resolutions passed at the state meeting will be given by the delegates and alternates who represented Sierra Madre: Mrs. Walter Gardner, Mrs. Albert S. Myers, Mrs. Archer S. Frey, and Mrs. James C. Greer.

Many chapter members were on hand at the state conference for the installation of the new state regent, Mrs. John J. Champieux, and her executive board, who were installed by the national president general, Mrs. Frederic M. Groves.

Mrs. Groves honored the California Society by inviting Miss Jill Vianak to give a reading, "I Am the Flag," at

Color Film On Mexico Set Monday

A color film on Mexico will be shown at the San Gabriel Civic Auditorium Monday evening, March 17, at 8:20 p.m. Don Shaw, photographer will narrate the travelogue under the auspices of Elmer Wilson.

This vacation tour through Mexico is the story of all Mexico—her people, their lives and future, the lost Mayas and amazing ruins of Yucatan, a fiesta at Oaxaca, the handicrafts of silver, pottery, lacquerware, weaving and hammock making.

The film includes Mexico City, University City, Gay spas at Purua, Fortin and Vista Hermosa, Merida, Chihuahua, Mt. Popocatepetl, Vera Cruz, Taxco and Patzcuaro.

Reservations are available at Mission Playhouse box office, AT 4-3277.

Mrs. Ruth Apperson Rous, national flag chairman, and past state regent of California, wrote the flag article and selected Miss Vianak, to read it for the conference.

Stamp Club To Elect Officers On March 19

A new stamp club has been organized in Sierra Madre with Edward Fladung as temporary chairman, it was announced yesterday.

Permanent officers of the club will be elected at the next meeting March 19.

The club held its first meeting last Wednesday. Twelve Sierra Madreans attended and five more are expected to join. The club is open to anyone interested in stamp collecting.

Mrs. LolaRee Hull Entertains Guests

Mrs. LolaRee Hull, 609 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., is entertaining Mrs. Lillie Hornsby of Detroit, Mich., and Phoenix, Ariz.

Weekend guests at the Hull home were Mrs. Inez Wilson and Austin Counters of Banning.

Association Elects New Officers

Mrs. James S. Ford, Jr., of Monrovia, was elected president of the Visiting Nurse Association of Pasadena at the group's annual meeting in the Pasadena home of Mrs. William Valentine, 720 S. San Rafael Rd.

Other officers elected were Mrs. John Wells, vice president; Mrs. Anson McCook, treasurer; Mrs. Rudolph Groth-Marnat, recording secretary; and Mrs. Charles Kassebaum, corresponding secretary.

New members elected to the board were Mrs. Carl Ericson, Giles Hall and William Valentine.

Those board members continuing to serve are Mrs. Clarke Ewing, Mrs. John Morrow, Mrs. John O'Connor, Mrs. George Swayne, Mrs. Robert E. Williams, Mrs. Howard W. Wright, Mrs. James Atkins, Mrs. David K. Gillies and Mrs. William Valentine.

Mrs. Florence M. Torke, executive director of Nursing Service reported 16,331 visits were made by the staff nurses to 1,743 patients in the San Gabriel Valley during last year.

The visiting nurses attend from six to eight patients each day and her services include making the patient comfortable, carrying out the doctor's orders and teaching some member of the family to give the necessary care. She will counsel with young parents about pre-natal hygiene and demonstrate care at home, including the bath, formula, and daily routine. She will also counsel with mothers regarding meal planning and other essentials of healthful living.

The visiting nurse is available to all families in need of such service and the non-profit charge may be modified to fit the family budget.

Questions About Heart, Epilepsy, Strokes Answered

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

QUESTION—Does the heart ever produce indigestion?

—W.S. ANSWER—Many people who have acute heart attacks—coronary thrombosis—experience a feeling of oppression in the lower part of the chest or the upper part of the abdomen.

There is a feeling that if they could just bring up some air they would get relief and, mistakenly, they call this indigestion. Chronic heart disease sometimes is associated with congestion in the bowel, again making itself known as indigestion.

Q—If a person definitely has something organically wrong, can emotional disturbances also be present?

—T.P. A.—They usually are. The human being is a complex unit of physical and emotional factors and disturbances in the physical area always produce some reaction emotionally, and vice versa.

Q—What can a person do to help an epileptic during an attack?

—E.M. A.—If the epileptic seems to be struggling for breath, loosen the collar. A folded handkerchief placed between the back teeth might help prevent the epileptic from biting his tongue. Try to place the epileptic in a comfortable position, preferably on his side.

Q—Do strokes occur in a series of three, and is the third one always fatal?

—A.E. A.—This is a legend without basis in fact. The first stroke may be fatal—and yet many persons have literally dozens of strokes without too serious interference in function.

Q—Is rheumatic fever contagious like scarlet fever?

—O.H. A.—It is not believed to be contagious as such. It is produced, however, by a streptococcal infection which initially can be contagious but, in many instances, by the time the rheumatic fever starts the infection has cleared up.

Q—If a head injury should result in paralysis, is the paralysis usually permanent?

—R.S. A.—Paralysis in the early phase of a head injury may be due solely to swelling of the brain. In the early stages, therefore, it is not possible to determine whether paralysis will be permanent. Permanent paralysis can result if the brain has been permanently damaged in an important area.

Q—Will head injuries cause brain tumors to develop?

—C.W. A.—There is no evidence that head injury will cause a brain tumor. The reverse may occur, however, as a person with a brain tumor may be subject to falls in which he might suffer a head injury.

Q—Will head injuries cause brain tumors to develop?

—C.W. A.—There is no evidence that head injury will cause a brain tumor. The reverse may occur, however, as a person with a brain tumor may be subject to falls in which he might suffer a head injury.

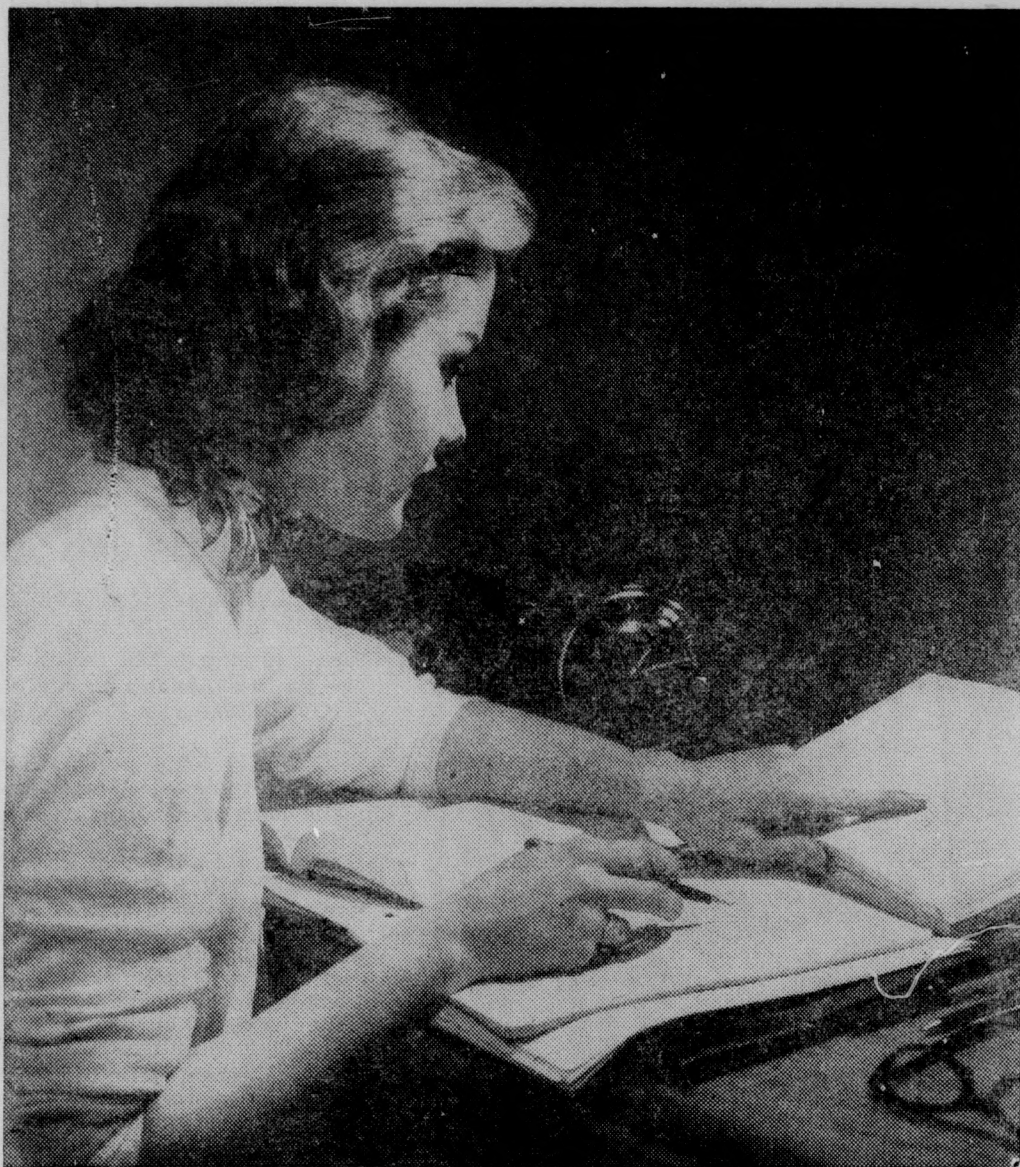

We live in a complicated and difficult time. We must be well-informed if we are to survive, and as a democratic nation we depend on knowledge as we never have before. You and your family can benefit from the exciting world of reading. Re-discover the delights and the challenge of the written word! Books are about everything—everything that interests you as a thinking person. The world is at your fingertips by merely opening the printed page—science, fiction, history, art—it's all there for the taking. Visit your library, your bookseller, your newsstand today. You'll find reading more will broaden your horizons!

Meet the Most Popular Girl in Our Class

She dances like a deam, excels in sports and is an honor student. All this, yet she doesn't indulge in any of the improprieties that some think necessary in order to be popular. She is a modern youth, wise enough to know there is a time for social functions, sports and a time for study, and above all too wise to take part in any activity that would harm rather than enhance her character.

How does she do it? What is the secret? Under wise parental guidance she learns the benefits and necessity of growing spiritually as she grows mentally and physically and is fully aware of the help to be gained in this growth through regular church attendance. The same help is available to everyone. Parents and children find happiness together in the church of their faith.

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

FIRE FLAMES

By Fire Chief Heasley

It is just a little amazing to learn that there are quite a number of people who do not, or did not, know that our Fire Department is still a volunteer company.

There are many occasions when the fire chief is asked to entertain youngsters from schools, scout troops, etc., by showing them through the firehouse and the workings of the fire trucks, or by the equipment. It is necessary for the fire chief to be on the floor that have been blown through the cracks of the doors by a strong wind.

Firemen are very proud of the neatness and shine of their trucks, especially when boys and girls come for a visit, and in order to keep them neat requires much more attention than any of our volunteers can afford to give. That is why the chief is ready to apologize for the slightest amount of dust that hides the shine.

A LARGE percentage of our fires have been small ones and have been relatively simple to handle. Therefore, we feel we are generally proficient at fighting this sort of fire. However, a major fire can occur at any time. We try to keep in touch with the hazardous buildings and try to remember the structural conditions of buildings in the hazardous areas.

It must be admitted that once a fire has reached a stage of enormous size, with flames stretching toward the house next door and through the roof, there will be some problems that will require some study before attack.

We dread the thought of such a fire and when the trucks are called, ne'er a man has any idea as to what the situation may be. Fire trucks en route to a fire may appear to be going very fast. Drivers are warned against the danger of traveling too fast, and yet an early arrival is always the desire. To arrive before the fire has a chance to grow is the aim of all firemen. Haste (on any occasion) in all fire fighting operations only adds inefficiency. Continuous drills have proved that calmness prevents many mistakes and we have learned that there are thousands of mistakes to be made. And they are costly in time.

WE URGE drivers who pass the fire station along the main drag to be on the look out for a fire truck coming from the station. Experience has told us that drivers are not too considerate of the firemen trying to get out in a hurry. Friday, March 14, will be regular drill and meeting night and those who watch the fights, had better miss the last few rounds. See ya.

The good intentions man who is always going to turn over a new leaf has been known to lose his place entirely.

Garden Notes . . .

Purchase of Shade Tree Needs Definite Knowledge

Stepping into a nursery and asking for a "shade tree" is as impractical as going into a book store and saying you want "a book." More descriptive information is required before your nurseryman can answer such a request.

In a book store they must know the age range of the prospective reader, whether fiction or non-fiction is preferred, and what subject matter is desired. The nurseryman also needs to know certain facts, says the California Association of Nurserymen, if he is to help make a worthwhile selection.

A FEW of the questions which must be answered by buyers of shade trees are (1) what size is suitable for the proposed location, (2) is shade wanted all year long or only during the summer, (3) are attractive flowers and edible fruit wanted as well as shade, (4) is the site near a building or sidewalk, and (5) is the tree to be planted in a lawn?

Once these basic questions have been settled the local nurseryman can use his knowledge of plants and climatic conditions to select some varieties for the home gardener to survey.

Shade trees range in size from small varieties which reach 15 or 20 feet at maturity to large ones that grow 75 to 100 feet in height. The many flowering and fruiting trees (and their relatives the flowering fruit trees) give spring beauty, summer shade and attractive winter patterns. These trees are available in peach, plum, apple and cherry varieties.

One exciting new small shade tree is Magnolia St. Mary which has an expected mature growth of less than 15 feet and bears fragrant, white cup-shaped flowers intermittently throughout the year.

In Southern California gardeners often prefer the evergreen shade trees, because they give shade during the whole year and because their performance is often better in areas which do not receive a regular cold wave each winter.

Among the small evergreens which find favor in the southern part of the state are the Orchid Tree (baulhinia purpurea), Cape Chestnut Tree (calodendrum capensis) and several flowering eucalyptus varieties including eucalyptus caesia and e. ficifolia (Scarlet Flowering Gum).

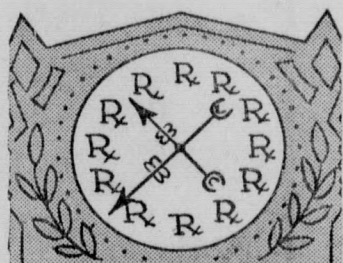

AMONG THE tall deciduous trees which have found favor with home gardeners throughout the state are several varieties of the maple (acer) family, the Maiden-Tallow tree. Tall favorites of the maple family include the hair tree and the Chinese Silver Maple (acer dasycarpum), Crimson King Maple (a. platanoides Crimson King) and Red Maple (a. rubrum). These trees are noted for lovely autumn colors.

One that is likely to become famed for fall color is the new Autumn Gold, an improvement of the Maiden-hair tree (ginkgo biloba), with picturesque habit and lovely golden yellow fall color.

Southern Magnolia (magnolia grandiflora), Citrodora, Red Gum and California Live Oak (quercus agrifolia) are just four of the many large evergreen trees from which home gardeners with no space problem can choose.

Your local nurseryman will be glad to aid in selection of varieties when special problems exist, such as near-by sidewalks, ponds, or other interferences.

TODAY Some PRESCRIPTIONS CAN Actually BUY TIME

...many times the ingredients of a prescription will hold back, retard the growth of harmful bacteria... thus giving your body time to build up its natural defenses against germs, bacteria, viruses.

This is just another reason why prescriptions today are one of the biggest bargains in history.

Rally Planned By Lutherans

Youths and their parents of the United Lutheran Church will attend a Pre-Confirmation Rally next Sunday, March 16, from 3:30 to 6 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Monterey Park, along with 13 other area churches.

A singspiration will be followed by an informal service. Speaker will be the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor of the local church, talking on "The Torch of Faith." Recreation for the youths, and a workshop for parents on the topic, "Parents and Youth in the Church," will take place, followed by a fellowship supper.

More than 400 youths and parents from Sierra Madre, Arcadia, La Canada, Altadena, Pasadena, Duarte, El Monte, Baldwin Park, Hollywood, Alhambra, West Covina, Azusa and Monterey are expected. This is one of 14 rallies being held simultaneously throughout the Pacific Southwest Synod of the United Lutheran Church.

LOCAL ARTIST

Among artists whose works were selected for exhibit at the fourth annual drawing and small sculpture showing at Ball State Teachers College was John Christenson, Sierra Madre, who exhibited a drawing entitled "Nest of the House Finch."

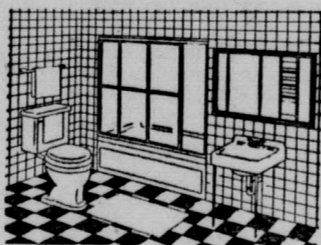

VFW Auxiliary Officers

Mrs. Dorothy Kennedy was elected president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 3208, at a meeting held Wednesday evening, March 5 in the VFW Hall, 40 W. Montecito, Sierra Madre.
Other officers elected were Hendrika Van Iersel, senior vice president; Dorothy Underwood, junior vice president; Ruth Custer, treasurer; Marie Kiggins, chaplain; Rose Udell, conductress; and Carmel Johnson, guard.
Also, Mary Kiggins, trustee No. 1; Hendrika Van Iersel, district delegate 1; Rose Udell, district delegate 2; Mary Kiggins, alternate 1; Barbara Heasley, alternate 2; Mary Kiggins, patriotic instructor; and Lela Embree, musician. Four color bearers will be announced at a later date.
Installation ceremonies for the auxiliary and VFW will be held Wednesday, April 2.
